CINCINNATI AND THE EAST

THE QUICKEST, LAST AND ONLY ROUTE running

Sleeping Cars from Louisville to

COLUMBUS, OHIO, PITTSBURG, HARRISBURG,

PHILADELPHIA,

NEW YORK,

And Other Eastern Cities,

WITHOUT CHANGE.

The only line with passenger cars from the South make direct connections at Louisville with through cars for New York, serving

One Train in Advance of all Other Lines.

From Louisville to New York,

Only Thirty-two Hours.

This line is stone-paved and entirely free from dust, making sleeping cars with the celebrated White House Safety Air-Beds, provides all possibility of comfort.

Only All Rail Line

From Louisville passing over the great Iron

Railway at Frankfort.

Passengers on this line by a tedious hard through Louisville, by sleeping cars at the slow rate of 150 miles per hour, can be served with the most comfortable convenience.

The winter in Russia are becoming colder every year, and the summers hotter, more dry and less fruitful, owing as is clearly proved by Paddington. In the destruction of the woodlands which formerly abounded in the southern districts.

The clearing of these lands has caused such an enormous evaporation that many once capacious water-courses have become mere swamps or are completely dry.

PROBABLY there is no country on the face of the earth in which a change of government could cause less interest than in the case of Spain. The appearance of a new moon has about as much significance as the appearance of a new

Spanish cabinet. The moon changes, but the moon is always the same. So with Spain. Whatever revolutions, mutations of dynasties, or forms of government, it always Spain, or in other words, political intolerance, cruelty,

chronic civil war, and an utter refusal to keep pace with the progress of mankind,

or be enlightened either by its own experience or that of others.

It was announced recently that England intends to occupy and appropriate

the whole of Papua, or New Guinea,

a very rich and valuable region in Australia, but it seems that under the decision of President MacMahon in the Delagoa Bay case that she can not do so.

The award to Portugal in that case was based on the ground that the claim of a nation to territory, based on first discovery, and even on temporary occupation, was valid and Inextinguishable one,

and as the Portuguese discovered New Guinea in the sixteenth century, they can not be dispossessed of the country by England.

THE French laws regulating hunting

have some peculiarities.

The huntsman must have a license,

and fees must be imposed for damaging trees or crops while hunting,

or to any who are under sixteen years of age, unless parents or guardians request

it. The price of a license is twenty-five francs. A land owner, however, may hunt unrestrictedly on his own ground.

Fashion prescribes that a huntsman should wear a hat shaped somewhat like a double-peaked jockey cap and adorned with a silver horse-shoe, a dark red plaid

coat with many pockets; trousers bottomed at the knees, to long yellow gaiters; and a game-bag slung over his shoulder.

POSTMASTERS in Japan are not like the postmen in all the provinces," says

the Postmaster-General of that country,

"are owned by the postmasters whose salaries are very small and cu-turally insufficient to compensate them for their services. For the present, however, they are satisfied with the small payments made them, because they are proud of being employed in the service of the Government, and, under the existing system, they are well contented.

UNCLE TOMMY HALL says that some "inconvenience" entered his garden the other night and split his cabbage heads open both ways. The wretch don't deserve to have cold slaw for dinner.

A DANSBURY mother has determined to drown down such excessive folly in fashion as striped stockings and the like. She says her son "shall" not keep company with any girl whomakes a virtue of her legs—"New."

OUR "devil" is not a fellow, by any means, but for two weeks or more, a fellow on his thumb has "deviled" him greatly; so much so, in fact, that he has been unable to work. The hand, however, has placed him on the convalescent list.

THE first County Court held in this (Lincoln) county, was held at Harrodsburg on the 10th of January, 1781. Benjamin Logan was the Judge being the first County Court Judge the county of Lincoln ever had.

THERE are over 100 miles of turnpike road in Lincoln county. Considering its area, there is not another county in the State, which can show a greater number of miles, and our pikes are made of the best gravel and limestone.

SEVERAL deaths have occurred at, and near King's Mountain Tunnel, during the past ten days, of material fever. The doctor in that locality, as everywhere else in the State, are busy attending the sick. So far, however, but few deaths have occurred.

WE request our readers to examine the new advertisement of Mr. N. B. Texis, in this issue. It will be seen, therefrom, that he has just brought in a fine lot of ladies' Misses' and children's box foot shoes. Give him a call and examine all of his nice goods.

P. P. TREVET, one of our most estimable young citizens, left here on Wednesday last, and will attend the Louisville Medical Hospital during the Fall and Winter months. He has been a close student, and will doubtless, "make his mark" in the profession he has chosen.

ODD INCIDENTS.—The hundred years ago, last March, one John Kennedy made a dash to this country to his brothers, of 1500 acres of land lying on Silver creek, now in Madison county, and the consideration therof was six horses—“one named Kennedy,” six cows, two kettles, and other household furniture, and 100 bushels of corn. These lands are now worth over $75,000. William May was the clerk who recorded said deed, and “testament,” as it was then called. It was recorded on the 15th day of April, 1781.

THE LUGGAGE.—Every day brings new developments about that burglar who sacked a dozen houses the other night. Capt. Phillips, who took some money from his pocket book, was kind enough to leave the pocket book. He also got something to eat at Dr. Merriman's.

MISS BETTIE, daughter of Mr. Robert Blair, of Stanford, is visiting Mrs. C. A. Zachary, of this city. Miss Bettie is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, and our young men are always pleased to have visit our town. You better join editor, we will make a short hunting trip. Same Report.

DR. NEAR. Next Hustonville, on Monday, the 25th inst., of paralysis, very suddenly, Mr. James C. Wright, one of our most esteemed citizens. Mr. Wright was originally from England—lived for several years in Polaski County, and more recently in Lincoln. He was a true type of the old English gentleman.

THE great topic of the times, is the Extension. Most of our citizens have availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the great cities at the time of the great Carnival. Dr. Alcorn is the most honest man we have seen, for he frankly avows that he is going to “Old John Robinson's Circus.”

MANX OF your readers will recognize the portrait of a distinguished preacher of our village, exceedingly tall, slender, sallow and, when not engaged in eating, looking very much like a convict escaped from the prison bars of the tomb. Well, the parson was fortunate enough the other day, to secure a marriage fee, of which he resolved to bank for an “Excursion and Exposition Ticket.” He did the show, and then concluded to do the city. In the course of his prandulations, he attracted the attention of an itinerant vendor of Stationery, who approached him with jubilant expression, and seized his hand, exclaiming, “Why, my dear, old friend, I am truly rejoiced to see you able to be up and out again! How do you feel to-day?” The parson was somewhat mystified by this cordial salutation from one whom he failed to recognize, but politely replied: “Sir, you seem to have the advantage of me.” “Yes, yes,” was the ready rejoinder: “I am in excellent health. But you are gaunt, sir, gaunt. Buy a dinner-worth of paper, and write to your friends, the glad news of your convalescence.” The parson called a cab with the vague directions, “To the Depot.” Of course, he was taken to the wrong station and finally reached home, thankful for his deliverance.

ANOTHER ROBBER CAUGHT.—Mr. Wilkins, Cashier of the National Bank of Madison, has made a dash to the Cashier of the Farmers' National Bank of this place, that the Sheriff of Fentress county, Tennessee, and his posse, captured another one of the Huntington, West Virginia, bank robbers, on Tuesday, last week. The rascal had on his person, $4,491.25 in bills ranging from $100, down to 25 cents, fractional currency, and two large army pistols.

WE learn that Mr. Ballou having visited and explored the whole western and southern country, has purchased a home near Stanford. This argues well for the judgment of the purchaser, and is at the same time a striking attestation of the fact we still know so well, that Lincoln can boast the best land on the continent.

THE first suit instituted by Judge M. H. Oberly, against the editors of the “Standard Register,” has been withdrawn, as we learn from the Danville Advocate, as the “immediate knowledge” was made, and the Judge is not in the habit to prosecute any of his fellow citizens.

THE team ran over a log near the depot the other day, and made sausages meat out of it in a little less than no time.

THESE are “body” sixteen suits for Divorce now pending in the Lincoln County Court. Nearly equal to a Chicago court.

THE captured robber in Fentress county, Tennessee, is thought to be Cole Younger, the Cashes of the bank at Huntington, will arrive at the jail here, to-morrow, for the purpose of identifying him and getting the money from the Sheriff which he found on the robber's person. A photograph of Younger has been sent down the wire.

MR. JOHN H. CRAVEN, of the “Trade Palace Store,” returned from the Eastern cities last Monday, and informs us that he purchased the largest and choicest stock of goods ever shipped to one house in Stanford, and he deserves all his customers, and the public generally, to wait until all are opened, before buying elsewhere, our citizens at a moderate price, and the intermediate profit on the animals will be saved.

A NEW DRUG.—A reporter of the Journal, in company with a friend, took a ride the other evening out the Mason's Gap road, and after getting to the foot of the gap, they went “over the hill to the poor house,” where they found the delicious wild Summer grapes hanging fromnumless trees and bushes. This is one of the most delightful drives around our section. Leaving the top of the gap you pass along a wooded ridge two miles long and four or five hundred feet high, to the piney Gap, from which the landscape far beneath, on a level plain can be seen for fifteen or twenty miles, and the spire of the Court House at Lancaster can also be seen, when the leaves are off the trees. A fine piece of scenery cannot be found in all that region, and the drive from town to town, five miles, is over a splendid pike. We advise our young folks to take this drive in preference to any.

REGULARS ABOUT.—On Monday night, last, a number of houses in the suburbs of our town, were either entered, or attempted to enter them. The burglars entered the houses of Captain Phillips, Dr. J. H. Owsley, and John McRoberts, Sr., but failed to get anything, except in the house of the latter gentleman, where they succeeded in getting about $12 from his pocket-book, which was in his pants. John Wallace, J. R. Warren, and Asher Owsley, were also visited, but the burglars failed to make an entrance, and left without getting any booty. This is one of the first attempts made in a long time, to burglarize the houses of our citizens, and we now warn all of them to be on their guard. Fasten your windows and doors, securely, and be sure to keep a well-loaded shot gun, and a pistol or two, and the scoundrels and thieves would give such a wide a space. Our neighboring town of Danville, has suffered from the raids of burglars on several occasions, but the thieves only tarried a short time. It occurred almost immediately after our rise, and lasted until nearly half-past seven. We enjoyed the curious “spectacular” display. Only about one-fifth of the orb of day was shadowed, which covered the low and left hand corner.

SUN EXCLUSED.—We fear that but few of our readers had the pleasure of witnessing the partial eclipse of the Sun last Wednesday morning, as it occurred too early in the morning for the most of them. It occurred almost immediately after our rise, and lasted until nearly half-past seven. We enjoyed the curious “spectacular” display. Only about one-fifth of the orb of day was shadowed, which covered the low and left hand corner.

OUR “devil” is not a fellow, by any means, but for two weeks or more, a fellow on his thumb has “deviled” him greatly; so much so, in fact, that he has been unable to work. The hand, however, has placed him on the convalescent list.

LAND, STOCK, AND CROP ITEMS.

CATTLE AND HORSES.—I have fifty good, smooth steers, from two to six years old—also, eight well broken mares, about 15 hands high, from four to six years old, all fair order, that I wish to sell.

L. ALEXANDER,
185-21 Mill Springs, Wayne Co., Ky.

A FEW years since, the trade in live stock on our County Court days, was quite meager—now, there is quite a change. The average number of cattle and other animals offered for sale on these set days, varies from 100 to 400 head; and the prices for which they sell, will compare favorably with those obtained in any other town in Central Kentucky.

FINE CORN.—Mr. James Crow, of this county, who owns a fine farm of several hundred acres on the Hanging Fork bottoms, brought to town office, the other day, a number of ears of white corn, raised on his place this year. We have seen much of the present year's crop, but are bound to admit that the specimen before us surpasses anything of the kind we have ever seen. The ears are large and long, and the grain are close together. Not an unsound kernel can be found. He says his entire crop is excellent.

WINCHESTER COURT.—Mr. Geo. W. Alford, of this country, attended the County Court at Winchester, Clark county, last Monday, and reports that there were between 1200 and 1300 head of cattle for sale, mostly common grades—which sold for prices ranging from 2 to 5 cents. One lot of extra Jasminine country cattle, 20 head sold for 5 cents, scales weight, M. Jones and Son, of this county, sold 50 head of extra long yearlings, average weight 1100 lbs., sold for $45 per head. The lot of 50 Harrison county cattle, average weight 1225 lbs., sold for $55 per head. They were not extra, but very good stock. Mr. Alford says that at least 500 cattle were not sold. The market was quite dull. He bought 213 head of Mountain Ewes, in Garrard county, as he came home, at $2.25 per head, and drove them to the Lexington market for sale.
